

Problem Statement

Title: Displaying Customer Records in an ASP.NET Web Application

Objective:

The objective of this lab is to create an ASP.NET web page that connects to a SQL Server database, retrieves customer records, and displays them in a formatted GridView. The lab focuses on implementing data binding, database connectivity, and presenting data in a user-friendly tabular format while maintaining consistent styling with the rest of the Airline Management System.